

- "May I help you?" the Candy Lady asked. 8
- "I'll take three berry sticks, please," Robbie said. "And one piece of bubble gum. And two mints." 17 25
- "Each one is five cents," the Candy Lady said. "So that means your total is—" 36 40
- "Thirty cents," Robbie said. He gave the Candy Lady a quarter and a dime. She gave him a nickel in change. 50 61
- "What would you like, Ann?" 66
- "Two lollipops, please," said Ann. "And two berry sticks and three jellies. Five cents each, right? Here are two quarters." 74 84 86
- "Here's your change," said the Candy Lady. "Is it more than Robbie's? Or less than?" 96 101
- Ann checked her coins. 105
- "Fifteen cents is more than five," she said. 113

Words to Know

asked gave him

may

Difficult Words to Learn

Word

Pronunciation

Definition

change

chānj

the money given back to someone who has paid more than what is owed less than

lěs thǎn

a smaller amount more than

môr thǎn

a greater amount

Choose 3 different ways to practice reading the passage

- Partner Read – find a partner and read out loud to each other
- Choral Read – read with a small group at the same time
- CD – listen to the story on CD; read along with the story as it is read
- Recorded Read – record yourself reading on a video, CD or tape recorder
- Student-Adult Read – read with an adult, have them listen to you read and provide feedback

Things to remember when reading:

- Raise and lower your voice to show appropriate emotion
- Read at a comfortable pace
- Change the tone of your voice to emphasize important words
- Pause at commas and periods
- Raise your voice when you see a question mark
- Read exclamations with strong feeling
- Change your voice when reading dialogue as if you were those characters
- Comprehend what is going on in the story

Think about where you live. You are a citizen of that place. It's up to you to be a good citizen. Good citizenship means many things. You can be a good citizen by protecting the planet.

One way to protect the planet is to recycle! Recycling means reusing items instead of throwing them out. The United States recycles 32 percent of its waste. Most places collect items for recycling. These items include newspaper, glass, and plastic.

Plastic bottles can be recycled. They can become swimming goggles. Plastic bottles can become a backpack. They can even become skateboard wheels.

Please practice good citizenship. Don't throw that plastic bottle out. Recycle it! Other citizens will thank you. And you'll help the planet.

Words to Know

live

many thank where

Difficult Words to Learn

Word	Pronunciation	Definition
citizenship	sīt'ī-zən-shīp'	the duties people have in the places they live protecting	prə-těkt'īng	keeping something from being harmed
recycle	rē-sī'kəl	to reuse an item

Choose 3 different ways to practice reading the passage

- Partner Read – find a partner and read out loud to each other
- Choral Read – read with a small group at the same time
- CD – listen to the story on CD; read along with the story as it is read
- Recorded Read – record yourself reading on a video, CD or tape recorder
- Student-Adult Read – read with an adult, have them listen to you read and provide feedback

Things to remember when reading:

- Raise and lower your voice to show appropriate emotion
- Read at a comfortable pace
- Change the tone of your voice to emphasize important words
- Pause at commas and periods
- Raise your voice when you see a question mark
- Read exclamations with strong feeling
- Change your voice when reading dialogue as if you were those characters
- Comprehend what is going on in the story